

What if you could...

consistently complete projects on time, on budget, on target?

With Proudfoot, you can.

"With Proudfoot's help
we have done in 6 to 8 months what would have taken us two to three years to achieve on our own"

VP AND GENERAL MANAGER

One of the common issues holding businesses back is an inability to manage projects consistently and successfully. Regardless of whether or not they have a designated PMO function, many organizations continue to face recurring and familiar challenges including:

- Projects that consistently exceed their budget allocations
- Failure to meet project milestones and commitments
- Inability to track project performance with accuracy and confidence
- Projects that appear to meet their technical requirements, but still fail to produce measurable benefits

What's the solution? While new technology often attracts the most attention from management, successful transformations depend on the level of engagement and commitment you get, and how well you enable your people to embrace change.

Transformational Approach

Proudfoot solves the people challenge of project management to help you consistently complete projects on time, on budget, and on target. We engage your people to drive sustainable changes in behavior, for sustainable improvements in results:

- Enhance or establish a project management office practice with repeatable standards and methodology
- Improve communication with effective and timely project reporting to all levels of management
- Reduce project-related cost over-runs
- Work with employees and contractors alike to improve resource efficiency
- Upgrade supervisory and management skills at all levels of the organization

Remarkable Results

Proudfoot implements a range of tools, techniques and best practices that deliver substantial financial and operational improvements as well as cultural change. We work together with your internal project managers, Six Sigma black belts or dedicated PMO teams to help them achieve goals at a speed they never thought was possible. Our project management specialists have a strong record of success in helping clients improve project performance:

49% Reduced spend

52% Reduced project cycle time

42% Improved productivity

23% Reduced working capital expenditures

15% Increased user acceptance